Make-up as a concept

One of the most important things when make-up is seen as a concept is the face shape. This is Horst Kirchberger's philosophy which he created after being a make-up-artist for many years, and is also reflected in his product line. The well structured, however easy concept-method opens new dimensions for a perfect make-up.

Yoga is a form of meditation training and translates as “yoke” or “union”, describing the integration of mind, body and spirit to create a greater connection with one’s own pure, essential nature.

An intelligently designed system of physical positions, movement sequences and breathing techniques, yoga helps to regenerate, strengthen, stretch and harmonize the body.

Experience not necessary.

Pilates

Pilates is a comprehensive training system. The exercises promote muscle control, flexibility, coordination, strength and relaxation. The focus is to develop body awareness. Conscious tensioning of the deep abdominal, pelvic and back muscles stabilizes the body from the center. This enables a harmonious performance of all movements.

Experience not necessary.

Aqua Gym

Aqua Gym is a series of exercises in water which stimulates your metabolism and thus burns fat faster. Experience the toning effect on your muscles and connective skin tissue!

Experience not necessary.

Nordic Walking

The poles used in Nordic walking ensure that your arms and legs provide reciprocal support during walking. This means less stress on your joints, which strengthens not only your leg muscles but the muscles of your arms and upper body as well. The poles facilitate a more intensive workout that involves your entire body. Gentle stretching completes the training session. Experience not necessary.
